

Incorporating Small Schools Research in Your Field of Research

Thursday 5 August 2021 - Parallel Session 5 – 12.45pm to 1.45pm (GMT+1)

MACDONALD – Consult a Colleague

Tanya Ovenden-Hope (Plymouth Marjon, UK)

Thinking ahead and planning your career in rural/small school education research is important in this competitive job market. As a scholar interested in small school/rural research, how can you incorporate small school/rural education research into your job? What are some strategies for disseminating research to an audience that is unfamiliar with rural/small school research? What are some of the most appropriate journals and what are they looking for?
