

Needs assessment at UHI – Video Transcript

The information that you provide during the support and needs assessment process will be captured on your support record and used to help ensure that you are adequately supported during your studies.

The university has a responsibility to share limited details of the adjustments approved for you with relevant others on a need-to-know basis, and we won't ask your consent to share this information.

Handling your data in this way will help us to fulfill our institutional obligations and ensure that your experience with us is as positive as possible.

Whilst we don't require your consent to share you will be asked to provide a signature during the needs assessment process as confirmation that you agree the content of your Personal Learning Support Plan and understand what's expected of you within the support process.

The university will be unable to implement the support agreed for you without your signature being in place.

Our privacy notice has further details of how your data will be used, processed and shared, and you should contact student services staff at your Home Academic Partner in the first instance if you would like further details of available support.

You can also visit the university's student support web pages for further information.
